Program Description

The Department of Health & Human Performance (HHP) offers two academic program opportunities, as well as a variety of activity courses for Fitness, Adventure, and Sport Skill Development.

Academic Offerings:

- The department offers a Recreation Management Emphasis within the Interdisciplinary Arts & Sciences Degree program. The Recreation Management emphasis is one of 28 available tracks under the Interdisciplinary Arts and Sciences Program. A Baccalaureate degree requires that a student choose any two areas of study as well as complete the DSU Integrated Core and General Education Requirements.
- The HHP Department also offers courses for students interested in the study of Exercise Science. The Exercise Science curriculum includes courses for students interested in clinical as well as sport performance-related study. The department is in the final stages of an Exercise Science degree proposal.

Activity Program: The Physical Activity Program offers courses for the development of health-related physical fitness, outdoor adventure, and sport skill development.

- Examples of Health-related fitness courses include Weight Training, Swimming, Aerobic Dynamics, Water Aerobics, Kundalini & Vinyasa Yoga, etc. Students may also take a fitness course (“Fitness Center”) which allows for individualized workouts to better meet individual goals and busy schedules.
- Examples of Outdoor Adventure Classes include Rock Climbing, Mountain Biking, Outdoor Cooking, Backpacking, and SCUBA Diving. Various levels of these courses are taught to accommodate beginners as well as students with more advanced knowledge and abilities in various adventure pursuits.
- The Sport Skill Development curriculum includes courses designed for novice/ beginning level students as well as courses for students with extensive backgrounds in particular sports. The course offerings range from traditional sports like Basketball, Volleyball, Tennis, Soccer, Golf, Softball, Racquetball, etc. to various forms of Martial Arts and competitive Triathlon Training. Increasing in popularity are the locally popular recreation and competitive sport activities like Badminton, Pington, and Pickleball.

Note that this course is an elective and does not fulfill general education or program requirements. Fees may be required for some seminar courses and instructor permission will be optional at the request of the instructor.

PEHR 3000. Psychophysiology of Fitness and Nutrition. 3 Hours.
Provides students with an understanding of the interaction between psychological processes, nutritional practices and physiological adaptations associated with physical activity and nutritional practices.
PEHR 3010. Special Event Admin/Mgmt. 3 Hours.
Covers all aspects of creating and running a large recreation event such as the St. George Marathon, Huntsman World Senior Games, St. George Arts Festival, and Ironman/Ironman 70.3 St. George, including planning, promotion, physical design, programmatic design, and managing large numbers of paid and volunteer staff. FA.

PEHR 3220. Legal Foundations in Recreation & Leisure Services. 3 Hours.
Covers the potential for legal issues regarding recreation and leisure activities, including the nature of the programs and facilities, wide-ranging clientele, multitude of paid and volunteer staff. Preparing to prevent unfortunate circumstances from occurring and how best to protect clientele and defend staff, administrators, programs, and agencies will be the focus. FA.

PEHR 3310. Leisure Behavior & Human Diversity. 3 Hours.
Exploration of issues related to leisure, recreation, and tourism behavior across a wide variety of dominant and non-dominant populations, including ethnicity, physical and intellectual ability, gender, age, religious and nationality identity, among many others. FA.

PEHR 3350. Motor Learning and Development. 3 Hours.
A study of how the development of physiological, perceptual, neurological, intellectual, and emotional factors affect motor learning. Knowledge from this course provides a framework for the establishment of programs that facilitate skill acquisition for all learners with a focus on children and adolescents. This course is required on most Exercise Science and/or Kinesiology degree plans. It is also a prerequisite for many graduate programs in Exercise Science, or physical/occupational therapy. FA.

PEHR 3370. Exercise Testing and Prescription. 3 Hours.
Teaches key concepts related to exercise testing and program design for healthy and diseased populations. Furthermore, usage of teams, groups, and individualized assessment and programming based activities will be used to explore principles in anatomy, exercise physiology, behavior modification, motivation, health promotion, fitness assessment and prescription.

PEHR 3400. Activity Programming for Special Populations. 3 Hours.
A comprehensive look at providing high-quality fitness, physical education, sport, and outdoor adventure experiences for individuals with disabilities. Students will learn best practices and applications for inclusion in classroom settings, as well as discover how to develop individualized fitness, competitive sport, and outdoor adventure experiences for individuals with special needs. This course is required on most Exercise Science and/or Kinesiology degree plans. It is also pre-requisite for many graduate programs in Exercise Science. FA.

PEHR 3430. Community & Commercial Recreation. 3 Hours.
Introduction to community and commercial leisure profit-making or self-supporting enterprises, including history, types of services, trends, careers, revenue management, services and products, and the relationship between business and leisure programs. SP.

PEHR 3700. Physiology of Exercise. 3 Hours.
This course provides a further overview of the physiology of exercise. It builds on the students' knowledge of human anatomy and physiology, and further focuses on the acute and chronic physiological adaptations of exercise on the human body. Various responses of functional systems, different populations, ergogenic aids, chronic diseases, physical activity, health and wellness, and environmental conditions will also be described from a physiological perspective. Corequisite: PEHR 3705. SP.

PEHR 3705. Physiology of Exercise Lab. 1 Hour.
This laboratory is a supplemental course to PEHR 3700, Physiology of Exercise. It will emphasize the demonstration of lecture concepts through hands on experiences. Assessments include maximal oxygen consumption, aerobic and anaerobic fitness assessment, body composition analysis, and pulmonary function testing in regards to chronic and acute exercise. Recommended prerequisites, BIOL 2320 and BIOL 2420. Corequisite: PEHR 3700. SP.

PEHR 3730. Biomechanics. 3 Hours.
Focuses on the investigation and application of the mechanical principles of movement relative to exercise and sport. Course includes an overview of the relationship of musculoskeletal anatomy to the mechanics of human movement. Methods of optimizing exercise and sport performance from a biomechanical perspective will also be addressed. SP.

PEHR 3780. Issues & Assessment in Recreation. 3 Hours.
Covers designing and implementing tools for systematic gathering of information about programs, personnel, facilities, and potential projects in order to make the best possible administrative decisions. SP.

PEHR 3800. Measurement & Evaluation in Physical Exercise & Sports. 3 Hours.
Provides students with the foundation of knowledge needed for administering and interpreting results from popular health and skill-related physical fitness tests. Test selection, administration, and interpretation will be emphasized. Students will use popular assessment instruments for data collection and computer analysis.

PEHR 3900. Community Recreation Program Promotion and Public Relations. 3 Hours.
For students majoring in the Recreation Management emphasis this course focuses on fee supported public sector recreation services, including: marketing, economic analysis, public relations, and deployment funding. SP.

PEHR 4010. Administration, Management, & Finance in Recreation. 4 Hours.
A summative course covering operations, philosophies, policies and procedures, personnel management, professional competence, management styles, personnel laws, financial analysis, working capital management, budgeting, cost of capital, and policy in park, recreation, and tourism agencies and businesses. Prerequisite: Successful completion or concurrent registration equivalent to any 12 semester credit hours in the program courses (PEHR 2500-PEHR 3900, Grade C or higher). SP.
PEHR 4100. Physiology and Techniques of Strength and Power. 3 Hours.
Covers physiological principles and training techniques used in strength and conditioning. A large emphasis is placed on the guidelines from the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) with an aim for preparing students to ultimately take the NSCA Certified Personal Trainer or NSCA Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist exam.

PEHR 4200. Healthy Aging. 3 Hours.
Emphasizes the basic physiological changes in older adults. Methods to improve the quality of life among older adults will be stressed. Additional content will include elements of health promotion, wellness programming, behavior change, lifelong learning and development, and relevant research findings pertaining to older adults.

PEHR 4230. Applied Fitness Development for Geriatric & At-Risk Populations. 3 Hours.
Provides students with hands-on laboratory and field based learning experiences in terms of applied fitness to at-risk populations and older adults. Health related fitness assessments, interpretation and counseling based on results of fitness assessments and constructing individually tailored exercise prescriptions to meet the clients’ unique needs and goals, are course objectives. Prerequisite: PEHR 4200 (Grade C or higher). Corequisite: PEHR 4300.

PEHR 4300. Clinical Exercise Physiology. 3 Hours.

PEHR 4400. Pediatric & Adolescent Fitness & Nutrition. 3 Hours.
Provides future exercise science professionals with the knowledge, skills, and abilities to provide appropriate fitness and nutritional guidelines for the physiological responses and demands unique to children and adolescents. Appropriate measurement techniques to evaluate this population will also be covered.

PEHR 4500. Theories of Behavioral Change. 3 Hours.
Focuses on behavior change theory, principles, and predictive models, with their application to health behavior change programs and interventions.

PEHR 4510. Motivation & Coaching. 3 Hours.
Course covers knowledge and theory related to coaching principles relative to sport psychology, sport pedagogy, and sport management. Also covers the integration of basic coaching skills into the work of health-care/fitness professionals to help clients achieve self-determined goals related to health and wellness.

PEHR 4600R. Exercise Science Internship. 1-3 Hours.
Designed to provide students with hands-on professional experience in the field of exercise science. May be repeated for a maximum of 6 credits toward graduation.

PEHR 4900. Theories and Techniques for Teaching Fitness and Motor Skills. 3 Hours.
Content in this course will prepare students to design and implement quality physical education programs for elementary and secondary school students. In addition to developing the knowledge and skills to select and implement developmentally appropriate activities for children/adolescents, students enrolled in the course will also develop an understanding of curriculum design, public school policy and procedures (as related to P.E.), as well as national standards and guidelines affecting physical education programming. The curriculum is designed to meet the academic needs of Fitness trainers, community recreation directors, and physical education teachers in the public and private sector will benefit from the curriculum. In addition, the knowledge and skills developed in this course will address material covered in the Praxis exam. SP.
