The Alumni Association of Dixie State University is an extraordinary group of 30,000 individuals across the United States, in Japan and Germany. Everyone who has attended Dixie State is a member of the alumni association whether or not they graduated from DSU. There are no membership fees or dues charged to belong to the association.

The Dixie State University Alumni Association exists to preserve and promote the “Dixie Spirit” throughout the community and the world. This is done through chapters in various parts of the country where all alumni are invited to meet together to be updated about what is happening at the university, renew their Dixie Spirit and network with other alumni in their particular area.

Homecoming and D-Week are filled with traditions that have existed for many years and as we celebrate the second century of this great institution, we work to keep these traditions alive as we continue for the next 100 years.

Under the direction of the Alumni Board, the D Crew, which is the spirit group on campus, presents itself as a diverse group of students, alumni and community members who ignite the Dixie Spirit and preserve traditions at various university functions.

The Alumni Office is located in the Stephen and Marcia Wade Alumni House at 684 E. 500 S., across the street from Hansen Stadium.

The Alumni House is also the home of the Student Alumni Association (SAA). The purpose of the Dixie State University SAA is to assist in creating true relations between the students and alumni. The SAA is a council of students who work in conjunction with the Alumni Board to promote the Dixie Spirit, keep traditions alive, and promote the university.
