DSU offers online programs and courses accessible from any location. Each online offering includes active and applied learning, providing students with an opportunity to actively apply what they learn to real-world challenges and tasks in their local community/area.

Online offerings may include limited or weekly synchronous (real-time) discussions or other activities. Where synchronous activities are required, designated days/times will be noted in the class schedule and course syllabus.

To view a list of programs and course offerings and support resources, please visit DSU Online (https://online.dixie.edu/).
